

Conference Note

35th Symposium of the Heads of Police Training Institutions

Bureau of Police Training & Development (BPR&D), under the Ministry of Home Affairs, is the apex body at the national level to promote excellence and best values in policing. The objective of BPR&D is to equip the Indian Police to meet the challenges of the increasing diversity of crimes on the one hand and the rising public expectations on the other. This is sought to be achieved through training, research, and modernisation of the police forces.

The Bureau of Police Research and Development (BPR&D) has been organizing the National Symposium of Heads of Police Training Institutions annually to discuss and deliberate on police training issues to achieve excellence in training. In the Training Symposium, policies and practices are re-visited to improve the training to all ranks of police officers across the country.

The 35th National Symposium of Heads of Police Training Institutions would be held on 23rd & 24th March 2017 at Vigyan Bhawan, New Delhi. Dr. Kiran Bedi, Hon'ble Lt. Governor, Puducherry has kindly consented to deliver the Inaugural Address. Sh. Rajiv Mehrishi, Union Home Secretary has also kindly consented to interact with the participants. Hon'ble Justice Madan Lokur, Supreme Court of India will grace the Valedictory function.

In keeping with contemporary and future policing needs of our country, the Central Theme of the Training Symposium is "Promoting E-Learning for Police Training". The Symposium has 03 sessions as follows -

Session 1 - Challenges in Teaching Technology to Adult Learners.

Session 2 - Successful E-Learning projects

Session 3 - Government funded resources available for E- Learning

In the Symposium, more than 100 senior police officers of the rank of DGPs/ ADGPs/ IGPs of states, UTs, CBI, NIA, BSF, CRPF, other Para Military Forces and Central Police are expected to discuss and deliberate on police training issues to develop a roadmap to achieve excellence in training.

BPR&D is making efforts to bring in fresh perspectives on training content and methodologies from educational institutions of international repute such as Central Universities, IIMs, IITs, NLUs, Government Organizations, corporate sector, police training institutions and other related organizations. Subject experts from the following will take part in the Training Symposium -NIMHANS, MDI Gurgaon, SVPNPA, RML Hospital, NPTEL, NCERT, MHA, UNODC etc.
